In 1995, the recycling of polyethylene terephthalate (PET) bottles reached a new high. Thirty four percent of all the bottles produced were being recycled. These bottles are turned into everything from rugs to goggles, park benches and fences to fiber for filling ski jackets.

Steel and aluminum cans can be easily recycled for use in other steel and aluminum products. This not only conserves mineral resources, but the recycling process also uses about 75% less energy than using virgin materials. Recycled steel and aluminum finds its way into new cars, bikes, appliances, cookware, and a whole lot more.

So remember: almost everything can be recycled except the planet.

Happy New Year Everyone, Let's Make It A Green One!

Start the new year off with making waste reduction and recycling one of your New Year's resolutions. Score big when watching the bowl games by eliminating disposable plates and cups from your "tail-gate" party. Use cloth napkins in team colors and reusable plastic and ceramic plates to add fun to your meal as you cheer for your favorite team.

Commit to purchasing longer lasting products such as compact florescent light bulbs and rechargeable batteries. You will save money, conserve energy and make less trash.

Plop, Plop, Fizz, Fizz - Oh How Clean It Is!

Now look what you can do with Alka Seltzer. Clean a toilet. Drop in two Alka Seltzer tablets, wait twenty minutes, brush and flush. The citric acid and effervescent action cleans wonderfully.

Clean a vase. To remove a stain from the bottom of a glass vase or cruet, fill with water and drop in two Alka Seltzer tablets.

Polish jewelry. Drop two Alka Seltzer tablets into a glass of water and immerse the jewelry for two minutes.

Clean a thermos bottle. Fill the bottle with water, drop in four Alka Seltzer tablets, and let soak for an hour (or longer, if necessary).

Unclog a drain. Clear the sink drain by dropping three Alka Seltzer tablets down the drain followed by a cup of Heinz White Vinegar. Wait a few minutes, then run the hot water.

And you thought it was just for a headache...

Tips for a Greener Valentine's Day

Valentine's Day is a great excuse for sending tokens of love to your nearest and dearest and to a secret admirer, or two! But in our desire to show affection for each other, we can overdo it and create a lot of waste. However, with a little planning, we can choose gifts and goodies that will bring joy to loved ones while caring for the planet.

Here are some top tips for making yours greener:

- try and choose a card from a local craft

market, especially from designers who use recycled materials

- make your own, if you're artistically gifted
- look for cards in charity shops, where you know the profits are going to a good cause
- always avoid over-packaged cards
- remember to recycle your card - or cards!
- send an e-card or text message - they are good for the environment and for your pocket (especially if you have more than one secret love!)

What about that Valentine's gift? There's nothing wrong with flowers and chocolates, but there are ways of improving on the old tried and tested formulas:

- avoid flowers sent by mail order - they require so much packaging just to keep them safe during transit

- order flowers from a local florist and ask for them to be wrapped in paper that can be recycled and remember to compost the flowers afterwards
- choose chocolate with the Fair Trade label - it helps communities in need and with a higher cocoa content, it simply tastes delicious
- if they're the star of your life, name a star after them.

Valentine's Day wouldn't be complete without the romantic meal. It's easier, and cozier, to go green at home. Save energy romantically and dine by candlelight. And finally, don't forget to recycle your empty bubbly bottle - or bottles!
